Left right Christmas game

How to play
Sit in a circle, each holding a wrapped gift. Read the story aloud. At every LEFT, everyone passes the gift they hold to the left; at every RIGHT, to the right. When the story ends, the gift in your hands is yours.

It was Christmas Eve, and Mom had LEFT the shopping until the very last minute. "I will be RIGHT back," she called, and she LEFT for the store with a long list in her LEFT hand and the car keys in her RIGHT.

Back home, Dad was wrapping presents at the kitchen table. He held the tape in his RIGHT hand and the paper in his LEFT, and somehow he wrapped his own LEFT sleeve to the box. "Is that RIGHT?" asked Grandma. "It is not RIGHT at all," said Dad, and they laughed RIGHT up until the oven timer rang.

The cookies! Grandma rushed RIGHT to the oven. One tray came out golden, but the one LEFT on the bottom shelf was a little too crunchy. "We will save those for the reindeer," she said. "They have strong teeth."
